CITY MEN

In Germany Pronounced Better Men Physically Than Those from the Country.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—City men are better men physically than those from the country, according to the investigations of a Bavarian army surgeon, who gives in the Munich Medical Weekly the result of his examination of more than 10,000 men. The greater physical fitness, especially to the suppleness of body, of the city men over those from the rural districts was striking among the younger men. Functional and organic heart affections existed in about equal degree in the two classes. The farmer boys were far inferior to the city recruits in carriage and in development of the bones and muscles. The most aggravated cases of curvature of the spine, flat feet and varicose veins were found in the country contingent.

WEST VIRGINIA TAKES PART IN CAPITAL NEWS

Events of Washington, D. C., Are Reported by Telegram's Correspondent There.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The federal trade commission, which is now developing plans for the investigation of complaints of the manner in which some features of the oil and gas business of the country are being carried on, will do some field work, and this will take them into West Virginia it is announced.

The plans for the field investigation are not completed and no one at the commission today would say where the first work of this character is to be done. It is understood, however, that there have been a number of complaints from the South of gasoline being sold for ten or eleven cents a gallon at certain points, for instance, and in adjoining counties of nearby states at as high as eighteen cents per gallon, with the alleged design of crushing competition and creating a monopoly.

If the information gathered by the investigators of the commission proves that there has been price discrimination with an intent to create a monopoly, under sections two and II of the Clayton act, the commission is charged with the duty of enforcing the act, which forbids such price discrimination.

Ex-Governor Albert B. White, the first and only candidate yet afield in pursuit of the senatorial toga worn by Senator William E. Chilton and who seeks the same honorable habitation via the Republican primary has returned to his home at Parkersburg in company with Governor White's campaign in some sort of a managerial or advisory capacity.

The purpose of Governor White's visit here was to hold a conference with ex-Senator N. B. Scott, Isaac T. Mann and Davis Elkins, who are Coughs and Colds are Dangerous!

One out of every three people die of Lung Diseases—all started with a Cough.

At First Sign of Cough take Dr. King's New Discovery.

Few of us realize the danger of Coughs and Colds. We consider them common and harmless ailments. However statistics tell us every third person dies of a lung ailment.

Dangerous Bronchial and Lung diseases often follow a neglected cold. As your body struggles against cold germs, no better aid can be had than Dr. King's New Discovery. Its merit has been tested by old and young. In use over 45 years. Get a bottle today. Avoid the risk of serious lung ailments. All druggists.

ardent supporters of the Wood county statesman. The White suite at the Raleigh was the scene of two conferences Thursday and Friday at which plans were completed for launching the White organization on thoroughly going lines which he had himself planned.

Governor White expressed himself as very well pleased with the shape his candidacy is in and confident of its successful outcome.

A few days after the departure of Judge Ira Robinson, of Grafton, who spent a couple of days with ex-Senator Davis Elkins, Attorney General A. A. Lilly arrived in the capital. The only candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in the Republican party who has not honored the city with a visit for several months is John Sherman Darst.

Mr. Lilly spent several busy days here conferring with friends. He went from here to New York and was to return to his home in Charleston from there. The formal announcement of his candidacy, it is said by close friends, will be issued to the public next month.

Major Joe Chilton, of Charleston, is in the city visiting his brother, Senator W. E. Chilton at the Occidental. It is the first visit that Major Chilton has made here since he was operated on by expert surgeons for a serious ailment. He has many acquaintances in Washington and they have been quick to seek him out on this visit, and to felicitate him upon his recovery. Despite his long illness, Major Chilton had a long repository of anecdotes with which he regaled his local friends with his characteristic skill and artistry as a raconteur, than whom there is none more delightful than this well known and altogether likeable Charlestonian.

William H. Sawyers, of Hinton, the irresistible, irrefragable and invincible "Bill"—is "in our midst." He is now a lawyer with the proverbial lucrative practice, but, yesterday was an editor with a unique style and a reversible twist of thought which he regaled his local friends with his characteristic skill and artistry as a raconteur, than whom there is none more delightful than this well known and altogether likeable Charlestonian.

John B. Finley of Parkersburg, has been a guest at the Ebbitt. Mr. Finley is secretary of a Parkersburg trust company and he is here looking after business affairs in which his concern is interested. Mr. Finley has but recently retired from public life—from a position on the state board of regents, being succeeded by Joseph M. Murphy, also of Parkersburg. Mr. Finley was a member of the board under two governors and prior to that was in the internal revenue service under E. M. Gillespie, and a member of the state senate from the Romney district, which has the first official position he ever held. He is one of Parkersburg's public spirited citizens, a thoroughgoing business man, and a profound student of public issues and current events.

Francis A. Keelan, of Clarksburg, a well-known citizen there who served in the Spanish-American war and suffered there from by ailments contracted while in Uncle Sam's Spanish Colonial possessions, is to be examined for a place on the pension rolls by a government agent who is to be sent out from Washington for that purpose, according to an order to that effect issued by the pension bureau.

James W. Flynn, of Kingwood, was a visitor in the city last week. He is one of the leading men of his county and his section, and known throughout the state for that matter, having been a conspicuously active member of the state senate several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hart, of Bluefield, are guests at the National. They are in the capital on pleasure bent and are doing the tourists program very thoroughly. "It is always an inspiration to us, particularly and mentally, and a help to us physically, to make a visit to Washington," said Mr. Hart. "The greatest thrill and exaltation that comes to any one is to stand uncovered before the tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon and—just think."

The Hon. W. E. Wells, of Newell, was in Washington for a day the latter part of last week on his way home from New York. Mr. Wells is the head of the largest pottery in the world, and is looked up to by the men in that business as knowing more about the manufacturer of pottery than any other man in the United States. In addition to that reputation, his reputation as a tariff expert is but little less great. He has been summoned before every way and means committee that has framed a tariff bill in the last thirty years to give expert advice as to schedules. It is needless to say, therefore, that he is a statistician of surprising ability. Mr. Wells is small of stature, quiet, unassuming, and a typical specimen of an American gentleman. In the northern Pan Handle of the state he wields a large influence, not because he aims to, but by the quiet force of a superior mind and a strong character.

A. D. Smith, of Huntington, is among the guests whose names decorate the Shosham register. He stopped off here on his way home from attending eastern football games. With the customary ease and grace of the inevitable Huntington booster, Mr. Smith fell upon that subject with zeal and enthusiasm when the correspondent introduced himself. Space forbids but take it from this interesting visitor—that town is some town!

Judge George W. Atkinson attended the state Masonic meeting held at Fairmont last week. Judge At-

WOMAN IN BAD CONDITION

Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Montpelier, Vt.—"We have great faith in your remedies. I was very irregular and was tired and sleepy all the time, would have cold chills, and my hands and feet would blot. My stomach bothered me, I had pain in my side and a bad headache most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me lots of good and I now feel fine. I am regular, my stomach is better and my pains have all left me. You can use my name if you like. I am proud of what your remedies have done for me."—MRS. MARY GAUTHIER, 21 Ridge St., Montpelier, Vt.

An Honest Dependable Medicine. It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for nearly forty years, and to-day hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

kinson has been high up and active in the affairs of that order ever since he was twenty-one years of age.

Former Congressman and Mrs. H. C. Woodyard, of Spencer, have reserved rooms at the Bellevue for the first part of December. Mr. Woodyard is coming to Washington to attend the national rivers and harbors congress, the meeting of the national Republican committee on the fourteenth of next month, and to meet a few of his congressional colleagues and chums who, after two or four years' absence from the arduous yet fascinating duties of a member of the house, have "come back," an ambition which Mr. Woodyard himself is giving much time, attention and hard work to just now.

The reservation clerk at the Willard reports that Hon. Virgil A. Highland, the Clarksburg banker and politician, is on the books for accommodations at the modest-priced tavern for the week next month which starts on the thirteenth day. The Republican national committee meets on the fourteenth and that is the magnet which is to draw Mr. Highland to this city at that time. He is a member of that committee, and it will be the first time in five years that the state has been represented at a committee meeting. Due to the late Republican party unpleasantness at Chicago in 1912, Mr. W. S. Edwards, who was elected to the committee, never attended any of its meetings. He didn't think as the committee did.

William Campbell, the Charles Town editor and apple exporter, has been over at New York looking to the loading of a vessel with wine saps and pippins. He told some incredulous scribes at the press club that the best cure for the drink habit was to eat apples. "Every time you feel a desire for a drink coming on," said Co. Campbell, "just step to the barrel and eat an apple."

"Huh, (only stronger), right off, like that. 'Who wants to eat fifty or sixty apples a day!'" "Shipping a barrel of apples to Liverpool these days is nearly as expensive as buying a first cabin passenger ticket, and there is the war zone hazard, too." But once there, the cargo is as valuable as minted gold," declared the man from Jefferson county.

The following appointments have been made to fill vacancies in the rural letter carrier force in West Virginia:

Willie E. Debar, at Cox's Mills; Charles S. Thompson, at Scarboro; and Mack Brabham, at Southside. Elwood Dickens has been appointed postmaster at Benbush, Tucker county, succeeding Albert S. Harness.

Vacancies due to resignation are reported at Neponset, Summers county; Vogan, Upshur county; Corliss, Fayette county; and Maggie, Mason county.

STOMACH UPSET?

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can get what you like. At the end of the box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.
